

ANNOUNCING: POCD NEIGHBORHOOD MEETINGS

The North Stonington Plan of Conservation and Development (POCD) Steering Committee welcomes all interested people to its new series of SEVEN NEIGHBORHOOD MEETINGS. Residents from the various “neighborhoods” are welcome to come discuss their neighborhood’s environment and natural world, history, roads, and possibilities for present protection and future planning. All interested persons are welcome to the discussion.

The concept is being coordinated by Steering Committee Member Madeline Jeffery, of North Stonington Citizens Land Alliance. North Stonington has been marked off roughly into seven parts, each one holding its own Neighborhood Meeting, with several residents from each roadway taking part in the gathering as well as all others who are interested. The concept hopes to create a very personal, fresh and direct means of communication with North Stonington residents and to help identify what is important in our natural world, our environment, our history, what needs protection, what can change, and what can be envisioned for our place, our town.
